

Benjamin M. Ampel

Assistant Professor in Computer Information Systems | Georgia State University
bampel@gsu.edu | <https://bampel.com>

Research Snapshot

Benjamin M. Ampel - Assistant Professor of Computer Information Systems at Georgia State University. Research in AI-enabled Cybersecurity, Large Language Models, and Cyber Threat Intelligence.

Key Metrics

| | |
|-------------------|------------|
| Publications | 30 |
| J / C / W | 8 / 16 / 6 |
| Years Active | 2019-2026 |
| Citations | 489 |
| h-index | 9 |
| i10-index | 9 |
| Avg cites/paper | 16.3 |
| Avg authors/paper | 3.6 |
| Citation velocity | 20 |
| Top venue | IEEE ISI |

Collaboration

Unique co-authors: 21
Institutions: 5
Countries: 1

Teaching Snapshot

Courses taught: 14 (9 unique)
Avg evaluation: 4.69/5
Institutions: 2

Research Focus

AI-enabled Cybersecurity, Cyber Threat Intelligence, Large Language Models, Deep Learning, Phishing Detection, Hacker Communities

Top Venues

- IEEE ISI
- AMCIS
- HICSS
- MIS Quarterly
- WISP
- ACM KDD

Latest Manuscripts

Seeing Is Not Believing: A Deepfake Video Call Scam at Pan-Asia Trading

Journal of Information Systems Education | 2026 | Journal

A Domain-Adaptive Soft Prompting Framework for Multi-Type Bias Detection in News

HICSS | 2026 | Conference

Automatic Extraction of Protected Health Information from Multilingual Hacker...

HICSS | 2026 | Conference

Recent Awards

- 2025 — Robinson College of Business IS Cybersecurity Graduate Program Top...
- 2024 — ACM SIGMIS Doctoral Dissertation Award
- 2023 — Best Paper Award, IEEE Intelligence and Security Informatics
- 2023 — Doctoral Consortium

Citation Trend

- 2026: 20
- 2025: 145
- 2024: 134

Generated on 2026-02-09